

SATISFACTION

What is your current level of satisfaction? It can help to define your goals by asking yourself how satisfied you are with certain areas of your horsemanship.

If you are not satisfied with the amount of time you have, sorry, but the MORE TIME button is still not working at this time....

This about your daily experiences with your horse - ask yourself how satisfied are you with.....

- How your horse comes to you at the gate?
- How polite your horse is at feeding time?
- How your horse halts?
- How your horse leads?
- How your horse picks up his feet?
- How your horse accepts the saddle?
- How your horse plays on the ground?
- How your horse views new obstacles and conditions (wind, noisy tractors, goats, etc.)
- How your horse responds under saddle?
- How your horse goes on the trail?
- How your horse jumps?
- How your horse stops, spins, turns, etc.

I think you see how this works.

Any area you say, " My horse is wonderful with ____fillintheblank____!" Good! Write that down on your Success List!

WHAT?!? You don't have a Success List!? Well, get started on it now! You'll LOVE reading over how successful you are and how many areas you and your horse are already doing a GREAT job!

Any area you can say, "I'm not satisfied with how my horse ____fillintheblank____." then there you go, a chance to create a goal.

Easy, huh?
